

2017 Spring Guide

We are looking forward to another great season at Hanson's Garden Village!

This week should put us all in the spring spirit with the warmer temperatures. We are busy finalizing plant orders, sticking cuttings and prepping seeds to be planted. Fuchsia, Bougainvillea and Begonia hanging baskets have already been planted and our first perennial plugs arrive this week. We are also busy implementing our new POS cash register system. Our 2017 classes and events are now scheduled and available for sign up and our bare root list is also posted. Our retail spaces are not open for the season yet, but if there is anything needed we are out here Monday-Friday from 9:00am-5:00pm. You may also call us at 715-365-2929 or email us at info@hansonsgardenvillage.com.

2017 Spring Preview Party

Celebrate the beginning of the spring season by joining us at our Spring Preview Party!

We will share with you all the new annuals, perennials, trees and shrubs we are carrying for 2017. You will also get a tour through our greenhouses to see what we have been up to and breath in some spring air!
Come with questions. Light refreshments will be served.

How We Grow Matters

At Hanson's we are always thinking about the future and our environment.

* We take care when we spray our crops and what we spray on them. Our plants do need certain chemicals and nutrients to flourish and grow. However, we try to use the best choices for your plants, your health and your environment.

*We limit what we spray on our edible crops making it the healthiest for you and the plants.

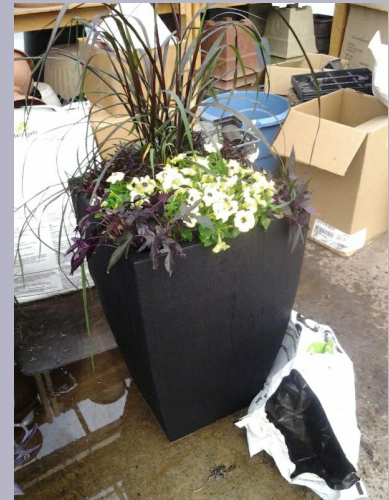

*We implement as many sustainable practices as we can into our business including composting and solar curtain technology to name a few.

*We are sincere promoters of sustainable landscape and gardening practices.

*We are proud of our partnerships with organizations promoting native plant restorations, pollinator friendly practices and invasive species eradication.
